Ludvig Nilsson

Managing Partner & Co-Founder
Jade Invest

Mission Statement

I first arrived in China 25 years ago and have lived in China for over 20 years. For most of my time here, I have focused on gaining a deep understanding of the local market and how Chinese companies are developing. I would like to bring this experience to Swedish companies, to help them develop better in China. This means finding ways to sharpen the tools to compete effectively with leading local companies in China, as well as finding win-win partnerships with Chinese companies for the Chinese and international markets.

I also think the chamber has an important role in helping Chinese employees in Swedish companies to understand Swedish culture, communication and leadership style as well as values. This is important to help Swedish companies attract and motivate the best talent as well as building support for the Sweden brand

ZZ Zhang

ABB

My goal by taking up the board membership is to increase the value of Swedish Chamber of Commerce to all member companies.

As the business environment is changing rapidly, our chamber needs to adjust our value to the members accordingly. I see the following opportunities and is willing to offer my contribution: 1. Most of the MNCs are being challenged with local competition. We need to jointly find an new model to grow. 2. More and more Swedish companies are headed by Chinese managers and the Chamber needs to offer valuable business support to them. 3. We have many small and medium sized Swedish companies, our Chamber can offer a lot of best practice sharing and coaching with them and help them to grow business in China.

Rui Wang

IVL Swedish
Environmental
Research Institute

At IVL, my current job is building up platform to promote Swedish cleantech in Chinese market. I have been cooperating with some Swedish companies to support them to do business in China. I have been working a lot for the promotion of Swedish national export platform Smart City Sweden, together with our Swedish colleagues. “I believe many Swedish companies sometimes meet environmental challenges in their business because China’s regulations for the environmental permit/control become more and more strict. And many Swedish companies want to be frontiers in environment protection and sustainability development. I hope that I could support them when needed. “

Michel Qin Zhao

VP Corporate Communications
Volvo Cars Asia-Pacific
Chairman
Board of Volvo China Open

Background

Michel Zhao joined Volvo Cars in January 2017 and was appointed VP Corporate Communications, Volvo Car Asia Pacific. Her role oversees brand communications, stakeholder communications, corporate social responsibility (CSR) and internal communications. Prior to joining the company, she was the Head of Communications Centre APAC for another Swedish company, SKF, a global leader in the bearings industry for more than 100 years. Her key responsibility was to coordinate communications within the Asia Pacific region. Mrs Zhao has many years' experience in promoting Nordic culture and its brands in the Asia Pacific region, with a special focus on China.

Mission Statement

As a Chinese working for Swedish companies for more than 10 years, I was deeply impressed by Swedish history and culture. My goal by taking up the board membership is to create a more informed and engaged environment for Swedish Chamber of Commerce and add value to it.

Given my previous experiences with Chamber of Commerce, I would suggest we can provide more value-added activities to members for best practice sharing and connect companies who wants to learn each other more proactively; we can do a better membership management by utilizing China's fast growing digital technology and making sure we know the needs from various background members and match it with the needed knowledge or activities; we shall create national initiatives given our network with government, business sector and our business nature to improve influence power of Swedish Brands in China in a more proactive and impactful way.
